STEVE'S SNAPSHOT

A Monthly Update From The Curriculum Office

Equity & Inclusivity Coalition Updates

November is Native American Heritage month. First recognized in 1990 by President Bush, it celebrates the traditions, languages, and histories of Native nations. Please visit Common Sense Education for sample multimedia, resources, and information to support student learning around this topic. Many great resources are available from the Smithsonian, PBS, and Library of Congress.

Tools for Teachers!

The CSDE and Smarter Balanced Consortium have released free educator-curated lessons, resources, and strategies to support student instruction. After completing SBAC Interim Assessments, teachers can customize materials and additional questions to build skills aligned to literacy and numeracy standards. Free access can be located in the TIDE platform. Simply click the Tools for Teachers tile!

Technology Recognition Program

The district will unveil a new recognition program, recognizing staff for their thoughtful integration of technology into the classroom while enhancing student learning. The criteria will be released soon!
